Position Title	:	Product Manager
Location	:	Bengaluru (Travel to Cities for integration & testing as needed)
Experience	:	6 to 10 Years
Qualification	:	BTech/MTech in CSE/ECE
Domain	:	IoT, Big Data, Smart Cities
No of Positions	:	1

Scope of Work:

Requirement gathering from cities, system integrators, solution providers, other data providers, data consumers, and application developers and enhance the IUDX platform to be the leading data exchange platform across the world.

Responsibilities:

Understand the current product features, do market requirements, competitive analysis, define the product roadmap, timelines and work closely with the engineering teams to review/refine them and plan the features/enhancements for future releases.

Skills:

1. Excellent skills in requirement analysis, competitive analysis, product management, innovation, new product development, project management, ecosystem development, stakeholder management, and communications skills.
2. Good skills in software development and ability to play the role of product owner and project manager to deliver quality on time as budget following the best practices for software development and Agile software development methodology.
3. Understand the IoT solutions from field sensing to the cloud computing, Big data, currently implemented use cases, and additional use cases that could be built, on the existing system/extending the system.